

What IS A Liberal? What IS A Conservative?

News Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: The Politics Resulting From Brain Function

(PHOENIX, AZ AUGUST 25, 2004)

Today, The Enticy Institute of Phoenix, Arizona released a comprehensive report on the politics of brain function.

Through examination of recent studies: including the UCLA study of Liberal & Conservative brains, and published reports and articles about the resulting politics of the brain, The Enticy Institute examines neural correlates, memory processing, biological clock and sensory dominance in presenting "The Politics Resulting From Brain Function".

Is the condition of Liberal or Conservative a matter of brain structure, brain function or is it simply an environmental result? What type of brain function do you use?

"The Politics Resulting From Brain Function" explains how the brain 'thinks', what causes motion, emotions and thought. Through the history of human evolution Liberal and Conservative brains has shaped culture and society. Learn what makes them different.

Read the report now at:

<http://www.enticy.org>
###

About The Enticy Institute:

The Enticy Institute is the future center of brain studies world wide: where brain building will result in less suffering, and more understanding, by watching an artificial life, intelligent, human-level brain think. Applying the knowledge of how the brain actually works will aid in solving conditions of brain, detrimental to mental health.

The prototype, 'Little Ricci' is presented in video, image and descriptive materials at the <http://www.EnticyPress.Com> publications site. A computer 'game' presented is the only truly intelligent software in existence. The Enticy Institute does not accept payment for any materials, services, information or technologies offered by it.

The Enticy Institute
PO Box 6932
Apache Junction, AZ 85278
lkh@enticy.org
<http://www.enticy.org>